2023 Digital EUHA Spring Conference: Now on demand!

(Mainz, 3 April 2023) The 2023 Digital EUHA Spring Conference kicked off on 31 March 2023. All the lectures are now available on demand, which means they can be accessed online until 31 May 2023.

The event started with an exciting live chat during lunch break. There were Q&A sessions with speakers and manufacturers. Participants asked questions and individual topics were debated thoroughly.

For the first time, the event is being offered in German and English, raising interest with an international audience. The 2023 Digital Spring Conference presents two relevant programmes, the specialist lecture programme and the themed presentations provided by the manufacturers. The event is supported by various advertising partners. The "Sponsors" section (www.euha.org/veranstaltungen/euha-fruehjahrstagung/sponsoren/) offers news from the industry and the field of insurance, with various companies presenting themselves and offering news that is relevant to our line of business. Brochures, short videos, and e-posters as well as further information can be accessed until 31 May 2023.

Eva Keil-Becker, the EUHA's Vice President, expresses her thanks for the support given, and invites everyone to take advantage of this further training offering until the end of May: "Get your ticket now and collect continuing education units! The 2023 Digital Spring Conference is ideal for individual training. The topics covered include public health policy, research, practical application, and communication. Important topics that are relevant to everyone in the industry!" She also emphasises that there is something for every level of knowledge as the presentations are divided into "Basic" and "Advanced" levels.

The EUHA has succeeded in winning top-class speakers presenting relevant lectures.
