EUHA Digital Spring Conference: Secure your tickets now!

The EUHA Digital Spring Conference will kick off on 22 March, at 9 a.m. CET, with a live presentation. From then on, all presentations can also be accessed individually.

(Mainz, 15 February 2024) The successful training format is an important date which should be firmly anchored in the calendars of every hearing aid acoustician. The event has an international outlook, it will also be available in English.

Offered in digital format, exciting and technically interesting presentations can be accessed on demand for several weeks until 31 May. Manufacturer information on new products provided by our advertising partners completes the offer. This means that the new format is ideal when, for instance, customer appointments have to be postponed at short notice. This gap can then be used for further training.

We are planning to offer lectures of 30 minutes each. EUHA President Beate Gromke warmly invites you to get prepared for the future: "Share your knowledge with your customers! Demonstrate your expertise and impress customers with up-to-date know-how!"

The EUHA will be including lectures from the fields of research & science, practical application, marketing & communication as well as forward-looking topics. The presentations are offered at different levels, "Basic" and "Advanced", so there will be something for every level of knowledge – from apprentices to master craftsmen.

New – upgrade: the ticket for the Digital EUHA Spring Conference automatically gives all participants access to the EUHA Learning Hub, free of charge! All presentations from the 2023 EUHA Congress are offered there on demand. So buying a ticket pays off twice!
