#EUHA2026: Anniversary conference free of charge for apprentices, students and school pupils

(Frankfurt am Main/Münster, 7 May 2026) Trainees, students and school pupils can attend the 70th International Congress of Hearing Care Professionals and the trade exhibition in Hanover from 14 to 16 October 2026 free of charge.

Under the motto “Soundcheck your career”, young visitors have the opportunity to attend the full EUHA lecture programme free of charge and visit the trade exhibition in Hall 6. This gives them an insight into the latest technological developments in hearing care and research topics, and allows them to get to know companies in the industry first-hand. Special guided tours of the trade exhibitions are offered for the next generation of professionals. Find out more at: www.euha.org/karriere-soundcheck (in German only)

Admission to the event is free with a school ID card or student ID card, etc. Tickets can be generated online from July via the EUHA e.V. ticket shop. Information on career opportunities is available at several points throughout the industry exhibition. For example, at the Campus Hörakustik Lübeck stand, at the EUHA e.V. stand in the central networking area in Hall 6, the EUHA Live Area. Here, universities and colleges, among others, will be presenting degree programmes in audiology and hearing care. School pupils, apprentices and students can meet up in the EUHA Live Area, network with others and exchange ideas.
