EUHA Sponsorship Award: Apply now!

(Münster, 1 July 2026) The call for entries for the 2026 EUHA Sponsorship Award is open until 15 August 2026. Entries may be submitted in the fields of audiology, hearing aid fitting and user benefits. This marks the 16th time the EUHA has awarded the prize – and it has long since established itself as a major accolade for early-career researchers in hearing care. But what makes the EUHA Sponsorship Award so special?

“With the EUHA Sponsorship Award, we aim to support the next generation of professionals in the sector and offer young researchers a platform to present their practice-oriented research and studies to a broad specialist audience,” explains Eva Keil-Becker, Chair of the EUHA Sponsorship Award jury, EUHA Vice-President and co-initiator of the award.

In addition to prize money of between 1,000 and 3,000 euros, the award provides the winners with a special platform: they will present their work at the EUHA Congress, the world’s largest event in the hearing care industry. The awards ceremony takes place on the first day of the congress as part of the Knowledge Symposium. At the same time, the winners have the opportunity to share their research findings with an interested specialist audience and to forge valuable contacts within the industry.

The winning projects gain additional visibility through their publication on the EUHA website.

A look at previous winners shows that the EUHA Sponsorship Award is often more than just an honour – it can serve as a springboard for a career. Many of the talented young researchers who have received the award now hold senior positions at universities or research institutes, run successful companies, serve on specialist committees or are actively shaping the future of hearing care.

Anyone wishing to present their research to an international specialist audience and gain valuable impetus for their own professional career can apply for the 2026 EUHA Sponsorship Award until 15 August 2026.

EUHA Sponsorship Award 2026: Apply now!

To promote the next generation of acousticians and raise their profile, the EUHA honours outstanding, industry-relevant theses. Until 15 August 2026, the EUHA is accepting diploma, bachelor's or master's theses that serve the rehabilitation of losses in the auditory communicative system and have a certain development potential. The jury also emphasises that the work must have a practical benefit for the hearing aid industry. Students at a university or university of applied sciences who have completed their studies within the last 24 months are eligible to apply. You don't need to be a hearing care professional.

The EUHA Sponsorship Award 2026 will be presented during the 70th International Congress of Hearing Aid Acousticians on 14 October 2026 in Hannover. The winners will receive prize money and present their work at the EUHA Congress. In this way, the EUHA is specifically supporting young talent and enabling the industry to benefit from the latest knowledge and findings.
